

COMFORT

The COMFORT cutlery tray series is characterised by its calming, high-quality design. The compartments are sensibly coordinated and allow an optimum organisation of utensils and accessories in a harmonious fibre look at all times. The COMFORT cutlery tray series can be described as classic. It has been established in the kitchen industry for years. The resistant plastic with a modern structured surface withstands daily use without any restriction.

The COMFORT series can be adapted to any frame system individually. It is commonly used in the market and is supplied reliably and accordingly as a completely finished product.
